EXT - VARIOUS LOCATIONS IN EDINBURGH EACH SHOWING A DIFFERENT SENTINEL - DAY

NARRATOR (V.O.)

For safety, crime prevention, traffic management they said. The delivery robots were shocking they said, on the pavements, need controlling, and the scooters. Funded by advertising, they said, personalised. Bus shelters that recognised you, they said. It'll be safer, they're a tourist attraction, Vegas has them, they said. So what if AI sees the world differently? they said.

EXT - A STREET IN THE EDINBURGH UPSIDE DOWN - DAY

We see Edinburgh as the delivery robot sees it, it weaves through traffic and people. A box marked 'collision detection' flags people, bus stops, lamp posts as the robot moves along. We see looming over the street a Sentinel hanging down.

SENTINEL (V.O.)

We all want to see the streets free of rubbish, congestion and vermin and the Conway Corporation is working overtime with you to deliver the Edinburgh we all deserve.

EXT - A STREET IN THE EDINBURGH UPSIDE DOWN - DAY

A robot meanders about through the street furniture. The streets are empty of people. No cars are moving. The sound of birdsong is the only noise, no traffic. A Sentinel hangs down.

EXT - THE LOWER LEVEL OF A DOUBLE STREET IN EDINBURGH - DAWN

We see this scene play out on a monitor with multiple windows showing different views of the same action from CCTV and doorbell footage. Two people are shuffling along the wall, the first wears a horse's head and spaceman's onsie decorated with odd tails and hands. The second has on some some sort of animal mask and is wearing a dinosaur onsie. The 2nd person is on a leash. The CCTV zooms in and an identification box pops up with a gibberish <horse-cosmonaut and his slave-sex-dog>.

INT - OFFICE - DUSK

The camera shows a notice pinned to a wall. It has the Conway Corporate Logo at the top. It is about AI Hallucinations detailing the procedure to log and investigate them, the bottom is ripped off. The camera tilts down and there is a smashed Conway Corporate coffee cup, and in a pool of dried out coffee the torn off bit of the notice, smeared with blood. There is a dried out puddle of blood mixed with the coffee. The camera pans to a monitor which is showing a hallucination log. Each line shows something like:

Flying-unicorn sector coordinates time

Anime-girl-frog sector coordinates time

Love-machine-tractor sector coordinates time

Ending with

Horse-cosmonaut sector coordinates time

Sex-slave-dog sector coordinates time

A new entry adds to the list which scrolls up. It is in a different sector.

INT - A CORRIDOR - NO NATURAL LIGHT

There is a rustling and imperceptible movement. A dim light comes on and we see the two people sitting cross legged in their absurd uniforms. They take off their headgear and strip their onsies down to their wastes revealing plain t-shirts underneath. Both have an eye-patch on different eyes.
